COAST CITIES IN SCRAMBLE FOR WORLD PARLEY

British Premiers Urge Pacific
Seaboard As Scene of Conference

PASADENA LEADS RACE

Los Angeles and San Francisco
Bombard Washington
With Invitations

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Pacific coast cities today indulged in a general scramble for the honor of re-seizing the Pacific conference of allied diplomats.

Following publication of an United Press dispatch saying a coast city was favored by the British for the conference, chambers of commerce, mayors and civic officials began bombarding Washington with telegrams of invitation.

Pasadena, Calif., was first to enter the race, urging her climate and hotel accommodations as her best claim for the honor.

Los Angeles followed with much the same offer.

Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco telegraphed Secretary Hughes reminding him that San Francisco has world-wide fame as a scene of notable gatherings.

Portland and Seattle during the morning were preparing to enter the race.

If held on the coast, the conference would be the first international diplomatic meeting ever held in the West.

URGENT PACIFIC COAST AS SCENE OF PARLEY

LONDON, July 26.—The Pacific coast of America may be the scene of a momentous meeting of powers to discuss Pacific questions. Dominion premiers, according to information here, intend to recommend that the gathering proposed by President Harding be held in a coast city.

Another suggestion understood to be incorporated in a note which will be submitted to Washington is that the meeting be moved up from November to late in September or early in October.

The note will answer Secretary Hughes' message in which he disapproved the suggestion that a preliminary conference on the Pacific problem be held in London.

It was reported today that the British will attempt to bring the question of war debts into the disarmament conference. Premier Lloyd George will take a corps of financial experts with him to Washington. The experts will be armed with proposals for the handling of Britain's debt to the United States.

It is reported that the British note agrees that the conference should be held on American soil and adds a suggestion that a Pacific city be selected because Premier Hughes of Australia and Premier Massey of New Zealand are anxious to return home with the least possible delay.

The coast city preferred for the meeting, it is reported, was not mentioned in the note, but the Australian and New Zealand premiers plan to depart either through San Francisco or Seattle.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU
TO OPEN TOMORROW

The free employment bureau of the Orange County Farm Labor association will open at 404 1-2 East Fourth street tomorrow.

This was decided today by the executive committee of the association following completion of negotiations this morning for a lease of the small building at that location formerly used as an employment office.

The building belongs to F. E. Smith, of Long Beach, and the land to S. H. Finley, of this city. Finley has tendered the association free use of the land and Smith has consented to occupancy of the building at a small monthly rental.

Unofficial reports to both organizations place the number of sufferers at more than 100,000. Fatalities will run between 5000 and 10,000, the health service was told.

FRENCH TO SELL SURPLUS YANKEE SUPPLIES IN U. S.

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Uncle Sam's overseas surplus war supplies, which were sold to a French syndicate, are being brought into the port of New Orleans to be sold on the American market, according to information made public by the New Orleans Association of Commerce today.

Fearing this action will have a demoralizing effect on the American market, the association has wired all state members of congress and the senate urging them to enact special legislation to prevent importation of the supplies.

DAMAGE $2,500,000

SOUTHAMPTON, July 26.—The liner Mauretania will be held in port several months as a result of the fire aboard her causing damage of $2,500,000.

Three decks of the vessel were completely destroyed half the length of the ship from the bow aft.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—American valuations as the basis for assessing customs duties will be kept in the tariff bill by the senate finance committee, Republican members indicated today.

While admitting the plan is untried and uncertain, senators declare that it offers the only solution of collecting a proper tax in the face of the chaotic foreign exchange situation.

EL CENTRO, Cal., July 26.—Manuel Manriquez, Mexican, will hang at San Quentin on September 30. Manriquez was found guilty of killing a Chinese storekeeper, in an attempted holdup here July 15. He was sentenced by Judge Marvin W. Conklin today.

ORDERS ARREST OF EXECUTIVE IN ILLINOIS GRAFT CASE

Judge Overrules Attorneys;
Orders Sheriff To Bring
In Governor

BY LAWRENCE M. BENEDICT,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26.—Judge E. S. Smith today held Governor Len Small amenable to arrest on warrants charging him with embezzlement of large sums of state funds.

Overruling contentions of Small's attorneys that the governor is immune from arrest by virtue of his office, Judge Smith held:

"There is no king in Illinois. Governor is liable to arrest."

The judge ordered the clerk of the court to place the warrants for Small's arrest in the hands of Sheriff Henry Mester. Then for Mester's benefit he quoted from the law to show that the sheriff must make vigorous efforts to serve the warrants or he will be liable for punishment for non-performance of duty.

Questions Governor's Authority
Judge Smith held in his opinion that the governor will violate the law should he carry out his threat of calling state troops to protect him from arrest.

"The governor," he declared, "has no right to call the militia for his personal protection."

When the judge finished reading his opinion, Former Governor Joseph Pifer, chief counsel for Small, leaped to his feet and began an argument for postponement of service to give him and his associates more time to prepare their case.

Fred Mortimer, prosecuting attorney, made the first move to carry out the court's order late today.

The attorney called George Sutton, secretary to the governor, on the telephone and asked that the governor send a representative to confer with Mortimer regarding the warrant.

Sutton replied the governor "wasn't interested" in the proposal, and said he had no desire to enter into a conference.

Mortimer said he had not decided on his next step, but indicated it would not be taken before tomorrow.

Attorneys Seek Delay
They asked that service of the warrants be withheld until September.

Judge Smith announced from the bench that Governor Small will be permitted to voluntarily enter appearance in court without the formality and indignity of arrest, should he decide to do so.

In such an event the judge stated: "The court will accommodate itself to the defense's wishes as much as it is possible to do so consistent with due administration of the law."

PUTS JACKIE COOGAN
IN HOSPITAL AGAIN

IN 1909 IS ANNULLED

The couple separated June 26, last. Parker filed the complaint for annulment. The case came before Judge Williams last Friday.

Testimony given at the time of the trial showed that Parker had a wife at the time he married Elizabeth Parker. His first wife sued him for divorce but the final decree had not been granted at the time of the latter marriage.

There are no children and no mention was made of a property settlement.

COURT ORDER ISSUED
IN ACTION FOR $354

Samuel M. Garroway and L. V. McDonald, joint trustees, and Charles Lantz, defendants in an action brought by Harry S. Washburn for the marshaling of assets, an injunction and $354, today stood bound by a court order that prevent them from selling personal property covered by a deed of trust.

Washburn told Judge Williams, before whom the case was tried, that no administrator had ever been appointed for the estate of Mrs. Flora A. Justus, a widow, who died intestate, April 12.

According to Washburn, her debts and obligations amounted to $2,500, including $354, alleged to be due him. An administrator is to be appointed. Washburn may then file claim for the amount he seeks.

PASTOR'S WIDOW DISAPPEARS IN LOS ANGELES. IS REPORT

Friends of Mrs. Ruth Wailes
Alarmed As She Fails To Return To Santa Ana

Fearing that injury or foul play may have befallen Mrs. Ruth Wailes, widow of the Rev. J. A. Wailes, who until his death February 17, last, was pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church, of Santa Ana, the Rev. William Jay Richards, present pastor of the church, and Mrs. Richards were in Los Angeles late today making the rounds of the hospitals there in an effort to locate her.

Mrs. Wailes left Santa Ana Thursday for Los Angeles to visit her niece there. After shopping in Los Angeles Saturday, Mrs. Wailes is reported to have left her niece to return to Santa Ana. Nothing has been heard of her since. Details were lacking late today.

Made Home Here
Mrs. Wailes has made her home at 801 North Broadway with the Rev. and Mrs. Richards since the death of the Rev. Mr. Wailes.

Members of the Spurgeon Memorial church and other friends were anxious about the whereabouts of Mrs. Wailes today. A box social, planned for this evening at the church by members of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. A. M. Lacy, has been postponed indefinitely, it was announced.

The Rev. Mr. Wailes died at 3 o'clock on the morning of February 17, following a short illness.

Falls To Rally
He was taken ill on the preceding afternoon with what was diagnosed as neuralgia of the heart and was unable to rally.

He was appointed pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church South in October, 1920, to succeed the Rev. A. T. O'Rear, who was transferred to the church at Oakland.

The Rev. Mr. Wailes left, beside his wife, Mrs. Ruth Wailes, two sons, Eugene A. Wailes, of Phoenix, Ariz., and Elbert C. Wailes, of Fresno, and two daughters, Mrs. Frank McIntyre and Mrs. William Hersom, both of Stockton.

BOY PLEADS WITH CONGRESS

Jimmie Bradley can make the proud boast that he's the youngest person ever to appear before a congressional committee to argue Uncle Sam into spending money. He is shown with Chairman Focht (seated) and Representative Underhill.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR CUT IN TAXES AIM OF NEW BILL

BY HERBERT W. WALKER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—The house ways and means committee today started the difficult task of trying to reduce taxes.

The new tax bill, members of the committee admit, must raise at least $3,500,000,000. This represents a reduction of only about $500,000,000 from the present taxes.

Four steps seemed certain as the committee met to begin hearings:

The excess profits taxes will be repealed.
The higher surtax rates will be reduced.
Some of the more annoying and petty consumption taxes will be repealed.

There will be no sales tax.
Some tax to replace the excess profits levy must be found, and it probably will be a flat 15 per cent tax on the earnings of corporations, Chairman Fordney said.

BIG OIL LEASE POOL
WEST OF CITY, PLAN

T. M. Russell today was interviewing property owners west of Baker street with reference to their agreeing to pool their holdings in oil leases. The territory in which he is working extends west from Baker street to Garden Grove, north to the Garden Grove road and south to Fifth street.

A meeting of a committee of land owners was held last night at the home of L. H. Brooks, Baker street. Three pools are proposed, one embracing the territory west of the river, another east of the river from Sixteenth to the Santiago creek and the third south of Sixteenth to Fifth, with Baker street as the east line of the last two districts.

Russell declares he will have no difficulty in "lining up" with a big company if the acreage wanted is signed up.

There is a basin of oil sand somewhere in the lowlands, it is declared.

HARDING ASKS RAIL AND FARMER AID IN MESSAGE TO SOLONS

BY L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—President Harding today asked congress to broaden the powers of the war finance corporation so that it could give financial relief to the railroads and agriculture.

He made this request in a short message addressed to the senate and house of representatives.

Harding gave only the bare outline of the plan he wants congress to approve. Details are to be given out later by railroad administration officials.

The president, however, made clear these salient points of his plan:

That the war finance corporation be empowered to buy railway securities now held by the director general so that officials may have funds to settle with the railroads without dipping into the treasury.

That the powers of the corporation be broadened so that it can extend further relief to the livestock raisers and farmers.

Roads Waive Claims.
Harding also revealed that to hasten a settlement with the government, the railroads have consented to waive their claims, based on the assertion that labor depreciated in value during government control, and that the government should pay for this. The waiver, however, will not prejudice their rights if they should take their claim to courts.

The Kellogg measure provides $1,000,000,000 credit for farmers and it authorizes the war finance corporation to extend credit to farmers to enable them to carry surplus crops until markets are available for them. Liberal terms for payment of government loans are provided.

The text of President Harding's message to congress follows:

To the senate and house of representatives:

It is necessary to call the attention of congress to the obligations of the government to the railroads, and ask your co-operation in order to enable the government to discharge these obligations. There is nothing new about them, but only recently has there come an understanding which seems well to justify a sincere endeavor to effect an early settlement.

These obligations already have been recognized by the congress, in the passage of the transportation act restoring the railroads to their owners, but previous recognition was made in the contract under which the railroads were operated by the government for the period of the World War.

Government Must Settle
Quite apart from the large sums owing to the government which we are morally and legally bound to fund, the government admittedly owes the railway companies large sums on those accounts, such as compensation, depreciation and maintenance. There has been a wide difference in opinion relating to the amount the government owes, due, in the main to the claim of the owners that in spite of materials and hours of labor being estimated in proper relations to similar expenditure in the pre-war test period, the "inefficiency of labor" still left a wide difference between actual upkeep and the expenditure made during the government operation.

In order to expedite settlement and funding, an informal understanding, under which the railway claims based on the "inefficiency of labor" are to be waived to hasten complete and final settlements, without surrender of any rights in court, in case there is failure to settle, I have no doubt that early, final and satisfactory settlements will be reached, since the policy of the railway administration already has been effective in finally settling the accounts of roads filing claims amounting to $225,568,764, resulting in the payment to them of $68,141,222.

Final Settlement Near
The way now would seem to be clear to very early adjustment and relief, except for the fact that the railway administration, though possessing assets, does not command the funds necessary to meet with its admitted obligations. There is no thought to ask congress for additional funds. Perhaps $500,000,000.

'BLACK SOX' CONFESSIONS BARED BEFORE
JURY IN CHICAGO BASEBALL SCANDAL TRIAL

By CARL VICTOR LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
CHICAGO, July 26.—Confessions of three "black sox" to their part in the fake 1919 world series came forth today to plague them.

Statements made by Eddie Cicotte, Claude Williams and Joe Jackson, during the baseball probe were read to the jury from stenographic notes.

The notes were read because the actual signed confessions had disappeared from the state's attorneys' office.

The stories told by all three men were similar.

A resume follows:
The players were in New York prior to the world series, fell in with a gamblers' syndicate.

The proposition was made by "sure thing" gamblers that the games be thrown to the Cincinnati Reds, the gamblers thereby reaping a harvest because the White Sox were the favorites.

Gamblers agreed to pay $100,000 for "fixing" the series. Of this amount $20,000 was to be paid after each game.

The confessions then told how gamblers double crossed the players and gave them only a small part of what was promised.

MAN WINS POINT IN MAINTENANCE FIGHT

Appearing in department No. 1 of the superior court today on an order to show cause why an injunction should not be issued to prevent him from disposing of certain community property, R. J. B. Rivero, of this city, succeeded in getting a continuance of the separate maintenance suit brought against him by his wife, Ameline Rivero, to Friday, August 12, at 11 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Rivero were married in New Orleans, La., June 18, 1899. They are the parents of ten living children, ranging in age from 2 to 23 years. Mrs. Rivero asserts that she has no separate property and asks a division of the community property, which, she estimates, is valued at $10,000.

HARDING ASKS AID FOR ROADS, FARMERS

will be necessary. The railroad administration has, or will have in the progress of funding, ample securities to meet all requirements. If congress only will grant the authority to negotiate these securities and provide the agency for their negotiations. With this end in view you are asked to extend the authority of the war finance corporation so that it may purchase these railway funding securities accepted by the director general of railroads.

I can readily believe that so simple a remedy will have your prompt sanction. The question of our obligation cannot be raised, the wisdom of affording early relief is not to be doubted, and the avoidance of added appropriation, or liability, will appeal to congress and the public alike.

Please for Farm Aid
The after-war distresses of two great and fundamental activities have been riveting the anxious attention of the country. One is the readjustment and restoration of agriculture; the other is the distress of our railway transportation system.

The pending proposals for relief and their discussion have already brought to the attention of congress the very promising possibilities of broadening the powers of the war finance corporation for the further relief of agriculture and live stock production. This corporation has proven itself so helpful in the relief thus far undertaken, that I cannot help but believe that its broadened powers, as have been proposed to meet agricultural needs, will enable it wholly to meet the nation-wide emergency.

After necessary and drastic curtailment, after harrowing straits in meeting their financial difficulties, the railways need only this financial aid which the fulfillment of our obligations will bestow, to inaugurate their far reaching revival. Its effect will be felt in varied industries and will banish to a large degree the depression which, though inevitable in wars' aftermath, we are all so anxious to see ended. I am appending herewith memoranda concerning the progress of railroad liquidation and revealing existing conditions which congress will be interested to note, while ordering the simple remedy proposed for the relief of the situation. The information is submitted by the director general of railroads. (Signed)

WARREN G. HARDING.

ANAHEIM COUNCILMEN DISCUSS PLANS FOR CITY HALL BUILDING

Anaheim councilmen last night began discussions of plans for the new city hall building authorized under the $75,000 bond issue voted last week.

Tenants now in the old building will be notified to vacate before September 1.

The council discussed, but did not decide, last night, whether to wreck the old building or to let the job by contract.

The matter of who will be the architect was not decided last night, although it is understood to rest between M. Eugene Durfee, Anaheim, and Theodore Kistner, San Diego.

GUARDS BACK FROM CAMP IN YOSEMITE

Declaring military drill in the Yosemite surrounded by great canyons and waterfalls to be a vacation, members of Company F, N. G. C., were back in Santa Ana today after a two weeks' encampment in which 2000 California guardsmen participated.

Following its arrival here from Los Angeles late yesterday, led by Capt. A. E. Koepsel and Lts. Jesse L. Elliott and Harry Pritchard, marched from the armory to Fourth and Main and back and was temporarily discharged.

"We learned a great deal as well as securing an enjoyable two weeks," said Elliott today. "Our camp was ideally located, half a mile from Yosemite village and we could see all of the points of interest in the valley by simply turning around. The Merced river was just half a mile from camp and as the weather was warm the men certainly made use of its advantages."

During the first week, all of the companies drilled eight hours daily, starting at 7:30 a. m. This was cut to about six hours during the past week. Close order formations, extended order formations and intensive training occupied the attention of Company F during the first week. Gas drill with the new gas masks, battle formation and road marches were substituted the second week.

SAYS IT'S GOOD TO BE BACK ON THE JOB

"It's good to go away on a vacation, but it is good to get back home on your regular job," declared the Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in an address to his fellow Rotarians today. The "sky pilot" member of the Rotary club has just returned from a trip to Yosemite.

"We all of us at times," said he, "think how fine it would be to be foot free to do just as we please. It does us good to go away for recreation, but just the same when we have had the vacation we feel more certain than ever that after all what keeps a man going, what keeps him a worthy man, is his every day work in life. A man who has it in his heart to serve cannot and will not be satisfied apart from his every day responsibilities in life."

"The Rotary club's slogan for service is a recognition of a real philosophy in life. No man can do his best unless he is contributing in some constructive way to useful things about him."

HOSPITAL PLAN AT ANAHEIM IS GIVEN BLOW

Several Anaheim residents appeared before the board of supervisors today and succeeded in forestalling temporarily a plan fostered by Doctors Johnston and Wickett, of the Mother colony, who seek $10,000 from the county for the establishment of an orthopedic hospital at Anaheim, where crippled children may be treated.

The supervisors postponed the hearing until next Tuesday at 2 p. m., stating that it was planned to have Dr. H. E. Zaiser, superintendent of the county hospital, and Mrs. J. H. Leebick, head of the Social Service league, present to give their views relative to the proposal.

The opponents told the supervisors today that there was no need for the institution in Anaheim inasmuch as, they said, there was one in Los Angeles.

MYSTERY IN BAG THEFT

Further mystery was injected into the case of Norman Andrews, 35, former bookkeeper and foreman of the Exchange Products company, Anaheim, who vanished last June simultaneously with as asserted disappearance of $125 of the firm's funds, when a black bag containing and belonging to Andrews was taken from the plant at night. Andrews may have returned for the bag, officers believe.

City and County

Harry C. Bohlander, brother-in-law of Philip and Harry Witman of this city, today is confined at the Community hospital with a double fracture of his right leg, sustained late yesterday in an accident on the Irvine ranch. Bohlander was driving a tractor when he was hurt. The injured man was brought to the hospital by Philip Witman.

Santa Ana Kiwanians who intend going to Fullerton tomorrow to attend the first luncheon of the new club of that city are urged to be at the office of Secretary Herbert O.
Davis, 302 Spurgeon, by 11:30 a. m.
Transportation will be provided for those who do not have machines.
Members of Santa Ana and Anaheim clubs are expected to be present in large numbers to welcome the new club into the fold. District Governor Leslie Henry will make an address.

The board of directors of the Newport Mesa Irrigation district has advised that bids to drill a 12-inch well on the site of the present water-pumping plant of the district will be received up to 4 o'clock, August 13.
The pumping plant is located west of Costa Mesa near the bed of the Santa Ana river. Each sealed proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the sum of 10 per cent of the amount of the bid, it is announced.

Two busy committeemen, the Rev.
F. T. Porter, of the First Christian church, and the Rev. Stanley H.
Bailes, acting for the Rev. J. A.
Stevenson, of the First Presbyterian church, are working on the musical end of the community services to be held in Birch park during August.
It was planned to hold a meeting of the Santa Ana Ministerial association today but, at an informal planning, the community service plans were turned over to the committee with power to act, according to the Rev. John Oliver, president of the association.

The first Saturday in August has been chosen as the mid-summer picnic date for former Nebraska residents. A call has gone out for them to gather at Bixby park, Long Beach, where the entire day will be spent,
with a basket dinner at noon, sharing the interest attached to the program of short addresses by prominent persons, community singing and the University of Nebraska reunion, which will be featured in the afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock.

Local investors who have recently taken advantage of the Southern California Edison company's promising plan, were much interested today in the announcement that the company had asked the railroad commission for authority to issue and sell $6,000,000 worth of bonds to finance the cost of extensions, additions and betterments made in the last year to the power plant owned by the company on the Kern river and also on Big creek in Fresno county.

Local poultrymen were today anticipating tonight's meeting of the Orange county stockholders in the Southern California Poultry Producers' association, which will be held at the office of the farm bureau. The meeting was called by Sidney Bruce, representative from this county on the board of directors. It is hoped to arrive at a definite plan for the recapitalization of the company.

Sunday school workers of Orange county began their nineteenth monthly conference at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Congregational church. "Studies in Matthew" by Dr. J. G. Kennedy opened the program, which, including the basket luncheon served at 6 o'clock, will continue until 8 o'clock this evening.

DIRECTORS LOSE IN FRESH OIL STOCK CLASH

Directors of the Huntington Central Oil company stood blocked today in their program to make a contract with Rhoads & Rhoads for bringing well No. 1 back to production for 5 per cent of the oil produced for two years, with the company paying all the expenses of operation.

Their hands were tied by a temporary restraining order granted late yesterday afternoon by Judge J. W.
Shen in the Los Angeles superior court. The injunction was secured by T. C. Gould, attorney, representing G. M. Lorraine, city manager of Alhambra, and other stockholders.
The injunction is effective until next Monday, when it will be either lifted or made permanent until after the special and official meeting of stockholders of the company is held.
This is scheduled for August 11, at 10:30 a. m., at the Art Music Studio building, 233 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

To Hit Directors
Request of the attorney that the injunction be made permanent until the special meeting will be supported by evidence to be introduced intended to show that the present directors are conducting the business of the concern in a manner allegedly detrimental to the best interests of stockholders.

Notice of the granting of the injunction was served on the board of directors yesterday afternoon about ten minutes before the scheduled hour for the board to meet and sign a contract with Rhoads & Rhoads.
The meeting was scheduled for 4
p. m.

It is declared that the board proposed entering into a contract by which the firm was to receive 5 per cent of the oil from No. 1 for two years in payment for whatever operations might be necessary to restore the well to production, the company to pay all the expenses of the work.

MEXICANS MUST BATHE IS EDICT OF ANAHEIM BOARD OF EDUCATION

Workmen began today to level the lot for the construction of the new Anaheim Mexican school on the site leased at the Fullerton waterworks on North Palm street. Two two-room buildings will be erected.

Each will contain bathing facilities, as it is the plan of the school board to compel the 160 Mexican pupils to take baths regularly, the same as American pupils. The school board intends to go further and get the parents of the Mexican pupils interested in the same sanitary endeavor.

The buildings will be used as a Mexican community center, as they will be located not far from the Anaheim sugar factory and the principal Mexican colony of Anaheim.

Life insurance is no doubt a good thing, but what some men need is insurance against fire.

Bread, cakes, pies, delivered with feeling all right.

posing the majority of the board believe that such a contract is ill advised. They take the position that an expert driller can be employed at a wage that would amount to far less than 5 per cent of the oil production for two years. It is the opinion of the leaders of the opposition that the well could be cleaned out and put on production within two weeks after a new rig is built and drilling equipment is installed.

Many stockholders today were signing proxies to be used at the special meeting August 11, when the dissatisfied members of the company hope to force through a change in the board of directors. Some favor a complete new board while others are satisfied with J. R. Woodward, president, and will fight to continue
him on the board.

Meet Tomorrow Night

The dissatisfied members have called a meeting of their supporters for tomorrow night in Los Angeles.
The meeting will be held at 8 p. m.
at Symphony hall, 232 South Hill street. It is proposed to agree on the personnel of a board which all can support at the official meeting of the company August 11.

HARDING'S MESSAGE AIDS RAIL STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Sun financial review today said:
The stock market failed to reveal in today's session qualities differing especially from recent manifestations of dullness and indifferent price movements. The opening was made at moderately higher levels, but shortly thereafter a reaction set in which carried values down a point or thereabouts for the space of an hour or perhaps 20 minutes. The list steadied, bringing about almost full recovery in many cases, more particularly among the standard shares.

Some pressure was directed against the sugar, leather, motor and rubber and tire descriptions.
The text of the message to congress reached the street shortly before two o'clock. The recommendation that the war finance corporation be empowered to purchase railway funding securities as one means of bringing financial relief to the roads, securities which the director general of railroads now holds, showed at least an earnest effort on the part of the administration to bring about relief of some sort, and in that sense was distinctly favorable.

Railroad shares were accordingly firm in the last hour and with a few exceptions the entire list held very well, although trading continued sluggish in the extreme.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 26.—Industrial stocks took the lead at the opening of the stock market today.
United States Steel was up 1-4 at 73
3-4; Central Leather, up 1-2 at 36 5-8.
The advance in the rubber group yesterday appeared to have been a trifling too rapid and Kelly Springfield opened 54 off at 43. U. S. Rubber got down to 54 during the first few minutes as compared with Monday's high at 55 5-8.
Bells were firm and large amounts of Southern Pacific were taken at 78, up 1-8. Mexican Petroleum opened up 1-4 at 105 3-4 but reacted to 105.
Prices included:

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 26.—Scattered buying of grain caused a firmer feeling at the start of trading on the board today and grain quotations generally showed fractional advances.
Considerable selling of wheat at the Seaboard to Germany and England also caused the market to strengthen. Fractional dips were made on some quotations at the close, however, in some parts of the grain belt where rain is needed, caused the decline. Provisions were irregular.
July wheat opened at 123, off 1-2 and closed up 1 1-2; September opened up 3 at 124 and closed off 1-2; December opened up 3-4 at 127 and closed off 1-4.

1-2.
July oats opened unchanged at 38 1-4 and closed off 1-4; September opened 29 7-8, off 1-8 and closed off 1-4; December opened up 3-8 at 42 7-8 and

THOUSANDS DIE
AS RUSSIA IN FAMINE GRIP

By EDWIN HULLINGER.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
PARIS, July 26.—Famine is depopulating Russia by thousands daily, according to Paul Millukoff, leader of Russian constitutionalist Democrats here.

Millukoff told the United Press today that private information showed one portion of Russia, larger than France and Germany combined, was being converted into a huge cemetery. In that one section, lying along the Volga, 25,000,000 persons are starving, he declared.

Only quick action by relief commissions can prevent the mortality totals from reaching staggering figures, he said.

Fifth Adds to Horror.
Millukoff pictured thousands, weakened by hunger, lying in filthy huts, awaiting death.

Most of the animals have been killed and used for food, he asserted. Fields have been combed for the last grain. A merciless sun is beating down, taking away even the hope of fair crops this fall.

The vast Russian steppes, once swarming with Asiatic invaders are again covered with moving hordes, he said. These Russians are emigrating in the hope of finding food.

Wagons and cars, some covered by dingy canopies of sackcloth, protect the starving ones within, creak along hot and dusty roads in caravans, the plodding figures which lead the bony horses, led on by the mirage of food.

Conflicting reports travel like lightning through the weary bands. Word comes that food is being distributed in India and long lines swing off toward the southeast.

Die by Roadside.
Another rumor comes that great supplies of food now are available in Moscow and the stumbling drivers turn their rickety animals to the north and west. Hundreds daily cross the frontiers into countries scarcely able to care for their own people.

Death is an hourly occurrence in these caravans of misery. Those who fall are buried by the roadside. Even the mothers, worn by fatigue and hunger, look on with apathy as their children are laid in shallow graves.

Millukoff's reports said that only one-fifth of the usual wheat harvest was planted this year and most of that was ruined by the great drought.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT
LOST IN MOUNTAINS

BANFF, Alberta, July 26.—Searchers scouring the mountains in the vicinity of Mount Assiniboine up to an early hour today had found no trail that would lead them to Dr. Stone, president of Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind., and his wife, who left the Mount Assiniboine hotel here July 17 to traverse the surrounding hill country.

Stone and his wife had with them but a four days' food supply, and when at the end of the fourth day they did not return to the camp searchers set out to find them.

The only clue so far was discovered Sunday afternoon when a searching party came upon some toilet articles bearing the initials of Mrs. Stone.

These were found at the base of Mount Ennom. It is not thought that they have attempted this peak, as it has been unscathed even by parties well supplied with food and experienced guides.

FLEEING MAN SHOT
BY S. D. DETECTIVE

United Press Leased Wire
SAN DIEGO, July 26.—An unidentified man was shot and killed on a downtown street here today by Detective O. A. McCollum, when he resisted arrest.

The man had been going under the name of J. I. Fittell, and had been inquiring at local telegraph offices for a sum of money which was expected by J. A. Fittell, of La Jolla, whom it was believed the dead man had been endeavoring to impersonate. The Denver authorities asked for the man's arrest.

In the man's clothing was found an auto club card, bearing the name of R. M. Campbell, 1660 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles. He had $96 in his clothing.

Another name, H. J. Raymond, was found on an Elks' membership card made out by the Wagonwheeler (Ohio) lodge, No. 1170. The original name on the card looked as if it had been erased.

Scores of people saw the shooting and gathered about the body, while awaiting the coroner.

When McCollum called upon the man to halt, he ran, it is declared. McCollum then shot him down.

ALIEN LAND LAW IS SUSTAINED BY COURT

TACOMA, Wash., July 26.—The Washington State anti-alien land law, passed by the last session of the state legislature, has been declared constitutional in a decision filed in federal court.

Circuit Judge Gilbert of Portland and District Judges Edward E. Cushman and Jeremiah J. Netzer of Seattle, joined in the decision that the law, which prohibits aliens to own or to lease land and penalizes citizens who enter into leases with aliens, is not in contravention of the United States constitution as was alleged by Frank Terrance of Seattle, who sought an order restraining L. L. Thompson, state attorney-general, from enforcing the statute.

It is believed that the case will be carried to the supreme court. Constitutionality of the law was attacked in the federal court here in June by Terrance, who is a white landowner of the White River valley, near here.

Attorneys for Terrance attacked in particular a section of the law making it a gross misdemeanor to sell or lease land to an alien, and asked for a federal injunction against Attorney-General L. L. Thompson to prevent him from enforcing the statute. They argued that the state law is in contravention of the treaty between the United States and Japan, and that it violates the fourteenth amendment to the constitution in that it discriminates against orientals on account of their color.

ULSTER DEFIANT
OVER PLAN FOR IRISH PEACE

DUBLIN, July 26.—Sinn Fein leaders will inform the British premier that his peace proffer is unsatisfactory, but suggestions for further conference will be included in the answer, it was learned on credible authority today.

Meantime "President" De Valera continued conferences with individual leaders and considered the possibility of a consultation with Premier Craig of Ulster before returning to London.

United Press Leased Wire
BELFAST, July 26.—Ulster will negotiate with Sinn Fein if a "proper invitation" comes from Dublin. Hugh Pollock, Ulster's finance minister declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Pollock, virtual head of the Ulster government during the absence of Premier Craig on vacation, declared that the Northern section of Ireland will under no circumstances be subordinated to the South.

"We have our own government; we intend to keep it," he declared. "We consider that the London peace conference does not affect us. They are too nebulous thus far."

"If Sinn Fein shows signs of returning sanity and friendliness toward us, then there will be time to talk of a United Ireland."

Pollock appeared to be correct in his statement that the north is not worrying over the negotiations. This city quietly pursued its business, paying no attention to politics.

OIL BARON MISSING

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—John J. Knight, Texas oil king, is missing.

The sheriff's offices at Phoenix, Ariz., and Los Angeles today began a systematic combing of the Southwest for trace of the lost millionaire.

Knight was motoring to Los Angeles from Dallas, Tex., at the time he dropped from sight. He was last seen at Buckeye, Ariz.

His automobile, deserted, was found a few days ago near Palo Verde, Ariz., apparently intact.

Some of Knight's personal effects, including a Masonic membership card, were found partially burned some distance from the machine.

K. V. Lipscomb of Dallas, Knight's brother-in-law, is now in Phoenix, directing the search from that end.

Mothers' Congress Leader Would Counterbalance Scheme of Teachers

Designed to prevent autocratic control of the Los Angeles public schools by the city's teachers, a few of whom recently went on record as demanding "teacher-councils" to pass on acts of the board of education and the superintendent of schools, a plan of the organization of "parents' councils" or committees has been submitted to the board of education by Mrs. Charles F. Gray, first vice-president of the State Congress of Mothers' and Parent-Teacher associations, says the Times.

Mrs. Gray yesterday emphatically asserted that she is satisfied with the present organization of the Board of Education and the administrative body under its supervision, but that she will insist that the parents of the city's school children be given equal "council" rights with the teachers if the teachers' demands are granted by the school authorities.

Mrs. Gray, who formerly headed the Los Angeles Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, is one of the best known child-welfare workers in California. She has been identified with virtually every school improvement movement in Los Angeles and elsewhere in the state for the last four or five years.

Explaining that her "parents' council" letter to the board of education was a personal and not an official communication, Mrs. Gray said that she wrote it after consultation with many Los Angeles mothers, all of whom agreed that some such action was necessary.

In thus fearlessly expressing her opinion of the teacher-council plan, Mrs. Gray denied any feeling of resentment toward the teachers, saying that she holds the body of teachers in the highest esteem.

Mrs. Gray further explained that in consultation with mothers of her acquaintance, it was decided that, among other considerations, it would be best for her to write the letter because, despite her long and close association with hundreds of school-teachers, superintendents and principals, she had never had any trouble or unpleasantness in her dealings with school men and women.

Her letter, in which she expresses her personal opinion and that of the women whom she consulted follows:

"Los Angeles, July 25, 1921.
"To the Board of Education,
"Los Angeles, Cal.

"A formal request for the formation of Teachers' Councils, the same to be an integral part of the administrative body of the school system, is, I am aware, laid before you.

"This, if I am correct, with the avowed object of assisting and advising; and also with the belief that with intimate knowledge of, and keen sympathy with, needs along all lines, such councils would be constructive and of great benefit.

"This is not for me to comment on, but I am constrained to place before your honorable body this request: that a Parents' Council, committee or something of that nature be formed, and accorded equal privilege in conferring and advising, also that such a committee have equal weight and consideration as a Teachers' Council.

"Heretofore, suggestions or complaints touching the efficiency, mistakes or personalities of teachers, or seeming defects in the school system, or curriculum, if presented by parents as individuals or detached groups, are ineffective for many reasons and often ill-advised and annoying to the board and to the superintendent's office.

"Parents, as occasions arise, feel a helplessness in coping with an oftentimes unbearable condition most harmful to a child, as, if the cause is the teacher, he, the teacher, is invariably upheld by the principal or superintendent.

"The Parent-Teacher Association is not the body to help in this on account of rigid policies of detachment concerning certain matters and because teachers are a part of it.

"Therefore, in addressing the Board of Education thus, it is with the firm conviction that parents, fully as interested in education and as eager for child welfare as the teachers, and a large percentage of them equally brainy, if not, in all cases, equally trained, and in addition absolutely disinterested as to moneyed considerations, should be accorded a place if this proposal is adopted.

(Signed)
"MRS. CHARLES F. GRAY,
"First vice president, California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations."

THEATERS

Yost's orchestra has been reorganized and begun its duties at last Saturday's matinee. The members occupy the positions as follows: P. J. Doyle, director; M. B. Foster, violin; R. F. Campbell, cornet; R. S. Arguillo, drums, and W. F. Mackey, cello.

Doyle was formerly director of the Temple orchestra and more recently had the musical program of the West End in charge. He is a thorough musician, having skill both in technique and as an interpreter. M. B. Foster is well known in Santa Ana musical circles, his violin solos at the Temple theater having been one of the attractive features of the program. R. F. Campbell was cornetist at the Pantages theater, Los Angeles, for the past few years and is a musician of merit. R. S. Arguillo has played in the Temple orchestra and in other Santa Ana musical organizations and is a satisfactory addition to the orchestra. W. F. Mackey, the only member of the former orchestra affiliating with the new, has been at the Yost a number of years, where his renditions have been enjoyed by the theater patrons.

Newell-Plavan Nuptials Take Place Quietly At Riverside

Miss Merle Newell, of Farmington, formerly of Santa Ana, and Mr. Ernest Plavan, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Plavan, 606 South Birch street, were quietly married last Wednesday afternoon at 6 o'clock, in the Congregational parsonage, at Riverside.

The Rev. Mr. Gardner, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony and Miss Edith Plavan and Mr. Leland Plavan, sister and brother of the groom, were the only witnesses.

The bride and groom are now honeymooning at Bear Lake, and after a few weeks will be at home on their ranch near Riverside.

The groom is well known here, having graduated from the Santa Ana high school with the class of 15.

Methodist Ladies' Aid To Hold All-Day Session

The north and south sections of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church will hold an all-day meeting tomorrow, at the home of Mrs. Briggs, 1904 Valencia avenue. Each lady is kindly requested to bring her own sandwiches and one prepared dish.

Duo Celebration Feature of Week-end Houseparty

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McCurdy and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burris of this city, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Delatt, of Claremont.

While there they were guests at a delightful dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Delatt, in honor of the birthday of hostess's father, Mr. Barker, and the fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. McCurdy.

Sedgwick Post G. A. R. To Hold Regular Session

Sedgwick Post, number 17, G. A. R., will hold a regular meeting at G. A. R. hall tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

On account of the fact that the last meeting was an open one, and that there were five Wednesdays in last month, the post has not had a regular, or business, meeting for five weeks.

Therefore, the commander greatly desires that every member will try to be present at this meeting, as business of importance will be brought up for consideration. This meeting will also be the last meeting before the meeting of the Veterans' association at Santa Monica, on August 2.

Return from Mountain Home

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Gerrard and family, 807 Cypress avenue, have just returned from a ten days' stay at their Mt. Baldy cabin, "Funer-bust."

Miss Murrell Rash was the guest of their daughter, Miss Theima, while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrard received many other guests while there, who made the trip to their cabin for the day. Among them were:

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bosworth, of Riverside, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christian and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston and family, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Harwood and sons, Donald and Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bosworth and son, Howard, and Miss Lois Bosworth, of Santa Ana.

What Southern California Woman's Clubs Are Doing

Mrs. John Devine of National avenue, San Diego, was hostess recently to the women of the Logan Heights Mothers' club of that city. Suitable to the season, quotations on "summer time" were read or recited by each member.

The next "get together" of the club will be a noon picnic at the tea garden in Balboa park on Thursday, August 4.

One of the most popular clubs in the Chemawa Indian school is a Greek letter club or sorority, if you please. It was founded by Mrs. Harwood Hall, wife of Superintendent Hall. It is a sort of honor society, and a girl must show herself worthy before she can become a member.

It is the highest honor a girl can achieve to be a member of this club before she graduated from the school. One always thinks of Greek letter societies as belonging to college, but the Indian girls have caught the spirit of the thing and are following close after their white sisters. Mrs. Hall has started a new order of things at Chemawa that is far-reaching, and little white sister will have to step lively or she will find herself outrun in the race and left to follow rather than lead.

The members of the Nancy Hanks Lincoln tent No. 5, Daughters of Veterans, San Diego, are receiving congratulations from their friends upon the decided success of the benefit recital given under the able direction of Mrs. Mildred Knight at the San Diego clubhouse recently.

Through the courtesy of Dodge & Hayward they were able to have Signorina Rita Cavaleri, grand opera singer of note, who entertained the audience with five numbers and was very generous with her encores. Miss Ethel V. Widener accompanied.

Mrs. Eva I. Ewing, the president of the tent, presented the talented Signorina Cavaleri with a beautiful spray of flowers in appreciation of her singing.

The Daughters will do relief work with the money which was realized. Each month a check is given for the milk fund for the Boys' and Girls' A.I. society, besides other relief from time to time.

Postpone Benefit Dinner

Notices of the postponement from tomorrow to late in August of the dinner to have been given in Los Angeles by the Cottage Home Board, Ladies of the G. A. R. Department of California and Nevada, for the benefit of the widows' cottage, were sent out yesterday by Anna M. Allen, the board secretary.

Former S. A. Football Star Weds San Diego Girl At Long Beach

A quiet little wedding took place in Long Beach, Sunday, when Miss Marjory Jeanne Avey, of San Diego, became the bride of Mr. George Henry Morrison, formerly of Santa Ana, but now of San Diego.

The pretty service was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. B. Burness, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, by the Rev. Mr. McBride, of Long Beach.

The bride wore a chic model of tan khaki-look, trimmed with peacock blue.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Walton, of Los Angeles, wore a pretty blue taffeta frock, with a corsage of organdie buds.

Mr. Raymond Marsile, of this city, attended the groom as best man.

Following the ceremony dainty refreshments were served, including a beautiful wedding cake, on the top of which nestled two love birds.

The bride and groom left in the early evening for a week at Yosemite, the bride wearing a pretty traveling suit of navy blue tulle, trimmed in gray.

After August 1 they will be at home in San Diego.

Mr. Morrison will be remembered by local football fans for his prowess along that line, as well as athletics in general.

3000 ALIENS IN COUNTY SIGNED FOR POLL TAX

County Clerk J. M. Backs said today that approximately 3000 aliens have registered in Orange county in compliance with the new alien poll tax law, which specifies that each alien shall pay a tax of $10.

Next Sunday, July 31, is the last day on which aliens may register, according to the statute.

And it will be difficult for many to register Sunday, as most of the county deputies propose to finish their work Saturday, inasmuch as Sunday is a legal holiday.

Subject to Arrest

Aliens who have not registered by the end of this week will be subject to arrest and imprisonment.

The registration in Orange county has been heavy. Every deputy registrar has called for more books and registration papers. They are instructed to turn in their books to County Clerk Backs within three days after registration closes.

County Collector of Taxes J. C. Lamb is scheduled to begin the collection of the poll tax next Monday.

Plan Test Case

A test case to decide the constitutionality of the poll tax has been arranged in Oakland between George Gross, clerk of Alameda county, and Albert H. Elliot, attorney for the Oakland Japanese association.

The law will be attacked on the claim that it is in violation of the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution, which provides that no state shall discriminate in its treatment of residents, and also that it violates treaty rights.

Mexicans predominate in the registration in Orange county, with the Japanese running a close second. Japanese predominate in many of the northern counties.

NEED MEN TO HELP FENCE BOYS' POOL

Here's a chance to get a close-up of the Boy Scout camp.

Men are needed tomorrow afternoon to help complete the fence around the swimming pool.

Willing workers will be guests of the camp.

Come early and stay late, is the invitation extended by Dr. Roy S. Horton, Orange county Boy Scout committee man. He also added that it would be well to come prepared for work.

To get to the camp in Santiago canyon on the Bixby ranch take the road one mile east to the Villa Park packing house, then turn north on the Orange boulevard for about two miles. You can't miss it, said Dr. Horton.

Tools: A few hammers would be appreciated.

TO WAGE FIGHT FOR WOMAN OF BALBOA

The scheduled hour for the arrival in Santa Ana of Dan V. Noland, Los Angeles attorney, for the purpose of attempting to have cleared certain court records showing Mrs. Lionel Roberts of Balboa as having pleaded guilty to a charge of being an inmate of a house of ill repute, was 2 o'clock this afternoon. It was stated early today.

At that hour Noland was to appear before City Recorder W. F. Heathman and to present evidence in the form of affidavits and otherwise in support of a request for permission to withdraw the plea made by Mrs. Roberts and change it to one of not guilty.

The city was expected to be represented by City Attorney G. H. Scott and Special City Counsel Clyde Bishop.

Noland's client was arrested here in a raid on a house occupied by negroes, and following her arrest with others in the house she pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against her.

She declares that she was embarrassed at the time and that she pleaded guilty on advice of a special detective who directed the raid, although she was in no way guilty of the charge preferred against her. The attorney and Mrs. Roberts appeared before the city council in executive session recently in an effort to have the council take action that would clear the records. The council, upon advice of its special counsel, took the position that it had no jurisdiction and that the proper legal way for Noland to pursue was for him to go into the recorder's court and ask permission to withdraw the plea made by Mrs. Roberts and change it to one of not guilty.

Noland expected to do this this afternoon. Should Heathman permit the plea to be withdrawn, the attorney might enter a plea of not guilty and demand a trial, or the city recorder might dismiss the case altogether. The attorney asserts that his client was the victim of an unfortunate circumstance, and that at the time of the raid Mrs. Roberts was at the home of the negroes merely for the purpose of securing the services of a colored woman who formerly had been employed by her at Balboa as a domestic.

28 FAMILIES WILL QUIT BROOKLYN FOR IDAHO FARM LANDS

United Press Leased Wire
NEW YORK, July 26.—Brooklyn will be minus twenty-eight families next Thursday when William D. Scott leads his little band of prospective settlers on their caravan hike to Buhl, Idaho.

They drew lots at the Scott home for land locations today. Scott's pretty daughter, Muriel, carried the lots around in a hat.

The twenty-eight families have had enough of town life. "We're off to a real country life," they say. Noon Thursday sees them on the trail.

UNIONS SPLIT OVER S. F. STRIKE MOVE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Threat of a general strike was the club which at least a portion of the San Francisco labor movement was shaking in the face of employers today.

With it as their weapon it was hoped to crush the "American plan" movement launched in the building trades.

Labor men declared the "American plan" is the "open shop" with a new dress.

Employers did not profess to attach great importance to the general strike movement.

Sentiment indefinite.
The strike sentiment within the ranks of labor was a bit indefinite. Some leaders openly opposed it. Others were vehement in its advocacy.

The situation today stood like this:

"Rank and file" committees, organized within fifty-seven unions composing the San Francisco building trades council, were formulating definite plans for a general strike.

They called a mass meeting of all organized labor for early in August to act upon the proposal.

They submitted to all the unions of the building trades council a formal ballot on the general strike proposal.

They organized a flying squad of 100 speakers to address meetings of organized labor.

The movement does not have the leadership of the present officers of the building trades council who declare it is an "insurgent" movement.

The present trouble grew out of a strike of the building trades which started some two months ago when employers placed in effect an arbitration board award cutting by seven per cent the wages paid to fifteen of the fifty-seven crafts in the building trades.

Halt Building Operations.
All building in the city was tied up as a result. The employers claimed it was a strike. The men called it a lock-out.

Some two weeks ago the employers announced that hereafter they would not treat with unions but would operate on the "American plan." The threat of a general strike was the answer of the "rank and file" committees.

Whether the movement will secure sought for endorsement of the central labor council or will gain sufficient strength to call out the majority or all of the approximately 100,000 union men and women in the bay district duplicating on an even larger scale the Seattle general strike of 1918, even the leaders themselves do not predict.

SET CLAIRVOYANT FREE; NO EVIDENCE

Because of the absence of the complaining witness and a lack of evidence on which to prosecute, Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley today dismissed the felony charge held against Marcelle Cook, clairvoyant.

Cook was scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace Howard at Anaheim for a preliminary hearing on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The complaint was sworn to by a man who is now in Nebraska. The complainant informed the authorities that this was harvest time in his state and that it would be impossible for him to appear.

The Nebraska man was a visitor in Anaheim more than a year ago and became acquainted with Cook. The clairvoyant was alleged to have persuaded the visitor to invest his savings in gold mine stock and to have received money from him to be so invested. He also promised the Nebraska man, it was declared, that he would furnish him with a wife.

According to Mozley, Cook embezzled the money which the Nebraska man turned over to him and failed to make good on his promise of supplying the man with a wife. Mozley said there was nothing on which he can base a complaint.

Cook was arrested at Coronado about a month ago no information furnished the authorities by Mrs. Harry Cohen, of Los Angeles, who lodged a complaint against her husband at that time. She told the authorities that Cook and her husband worked together for awhile and that she had a "hunch" that Cook was wanted. Cook's arrest followed.

SANITARY DISTRICT AT SAN JUAN, PLAN

Steps are being taken for the organization of a sanitary district at San Juan Capistrano. The end in view is the establishment and operation of a sewer system for the mission town.

San Juan Capistrano is growing, and as it steps out from the ranks of a sleepy village of pioneer days to an active community through which hundreds of automobiles pass daily its needs become pressing.

Hitherto, the place has had no cause to give much attention to sewerage disposal. Most of the places along the village street have cesspools, but the soil is hard clay, and the cesspools fill rapidly.

This week a delegation of citizens is at work circulating a petition prepared by District Attorney A. P. Nelson. This petition is to be filed, when signed, with the board of supervisors, asking for the creation of a sanitary district under the state law. The law allows a district of that kind to issue bonds and make assessments. It is proposed to vote bonds at San Juan Capistrano, install sewers, and establish a septic tank disposal system.

The area described in the petition as comprising the proposed district is the original townsite of San Juan Capistrano.

New York judge is quoted as saying American children are not properly reared. So there are some American children in New York, eh?

KIWANIS READY FOR 'RUBE' PICNIC

Approximately 150 men, women and children, it was indicated today, will attend the old-time village picnic to be held at Laguna Beach tomorrow evening by the Kiwanis club in compliment to wives and sweethearts of members of the organization.

"Rube" costumes will predominate at the outing.
Those who have no means of conveyance were being notified today to be at the office of Secretary Herbert O. Davis, 302 Spurgeon street, so as to be ready to leave there at 5 p. m. Motorists having extra room in their machines will pick up additional passengers there.

The picnic luncheon hour will be 6 p. m. It is hoped that the program at the dance pavilion may be gotten under way by 7:30 p. m. A "rube" orchestra will furnish the music for old-time dances.

Stunts will be given by a number of amateur actors garbed in bucolic costume, according to Stanley B. Reed, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Everyone who drives an automobile should see show at the Temple theater Tuesday evening. Look at Studebaker announcement.

It's July 29; and, of course, you know of assembly bill No. 33 which becomes a law that day.

If you don't and you are writing a scenario, or have written one—a motion picture scenario—you should know that the secretary of state is to issue certificates of filing to writers to protect them against plagiarists, or, as a guard against some motion picture producer with "taking" proclivities.

From Sacramento comes a wire to the effect that Frank C. Jordan, the genial secretary of state, is entrenched behind a veritable parapet of potential masterpieces for the perpendicular stage.

Men Write "Em, Too"

"This is the 'gentler sex,' says the wire, who are causing all this extra work for the postal clerk, contributing to the perturbation of Jordan and offering a refreshing breeze or two to the fagged-out personnel of his office these sweltering dog-days up state.

But ask 'most any man you know in an unguarded moment:

"How're you getting on with your scenario?"

And almost always he will give you his confidence to the effect that—

"Lasky is looking it over"—or—"I've sent it to Norma Talmadge to read"—or "I've not been able to get the twist I want to the last sequence"—or something similar.

Anyway—everybody, nearly, has a scenario in hand.

Encouraging News

And to those of us who are peering away at a film story, having faith in ourselves and hoping with all our faculties to wake up some morning to find we have written the great American play that one hears so much about, it is quite encouraging to know that Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal motion picture company, said in a recent interview:

"Too much prominence has been given in motion pictures to the famous authors and not nearly enough to the unknown author. In fact, in our blind groping for names—big names for advertising handles—we have overlooked much of the talent we have in our own studios, and the men and women everywhere who

COX PUBLICITY SEEKER? NAY, NAY, HE SAYS

"It just comes to me without bidding, and I am not puffed up over any fuss the papers make over me."

Justice of the Peace John B. Cox, of Santa Ana, who gets almost as much mention in the daily press as do President Harding, Lloyd George or Jack Dempsey, thus answered a question that has been asked numerous times by hundreds of persons.

"The terror of speeders" is not seeking notoriety.

"It amuses me sometimes when I notice they have made a splash over something that comes up in my court," he continued.

"All I have to do is to bait my hook and they bite."

"Take the Bebe Daniels affair, for instance. Why, I knew when I presented her with that bouquet of roses that the papers would fall for it."

"They fell for it."

"I didn't give her the flowers just for the publicity that would go with the act, but you see what happened—they fell for it."

"I'll say this: I don't give a continental what the papers say or don't say about me. I'm here to render my best judgment in these court matters and I'm doing it as well as I know how. I feel like answering some of my critics in the newspapers but, oh, what's the use. There's no telling where it would end up."

Notwithstanding this attitude expressed by the justice he is keenly interested in every scrap of newspaper publicity that is called to his attention. This is because he has a sense of humor and usually "gets a kick" out of the article or item.

"Santa Ana has her Judge Cox—what more does she want, or need, as an advertising feature?"

This is one of the many paragraphs going the rounds of the press in the Eastern states, according to reports.

Justice Cox's fame received something of a boost when he recently horsewhipped in open court a man who pleaded guilty to beating his wife.

TELL VIEWS AS TO MATRIMONY COURSE HERE

Santa Anans Fail To Take Kindly To Chicago Jurist's Suggestion

Matrimony as a high school course!

The suggestion emanates from Chicago.

A judge of the superior court there wrote to the president of the Chicago board of education, saying: "The number of cases wherein children have contracted marriage without ever having been informed of the magnitude of their obligations appears so often that I want to see some way of overcoming this danger in the coming generation."

And then, suggesting his remedy, the jurist counseled:

"Instruction in the science of matrimony could take the place of social affairs now on school programs.

Urges Starting Now

"We cannot correct the damage already done, but we can start now to educate the children so as to protect the next generation from the defects of our social life of today."

In Santa Ana the suggestion of including the science of matrimony in the high school curriculum apparently is not received with enthusiasm.

Justice of the Peace Cox stutted a little in voicing his comment in tones savoring but little of the judicial calm. He said:

"Poppycock."

"Doesn't know what he is talking about."

"Put more clothes on the girls."

"Teach them horse-sense."

"Matrimony will come soon enough; don't throw it at them."

"When two children, or two grown persons, for that matter, decide to get married, no power under the sun can stop them."

The Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, who has been delivering a series of talks on divorce, said:

"Would Be Dangerous"

"Matrimony as a high school course would be dangerous. Puppy-love needs no encouragement. The course would tend toward many more 'hurry-up' marriages, whereas the high school should teach the boys and girls how to get ready to live. The first two years of college could well be given to the teaching of matrimony."

R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools, objects to the word "matrimony" but calls attention to the domestic science course intended as preparation for home-making and for training in the responsibilities of the home.

Mrs. Earl L. Morris, president of the county parent-teacher association, also shied at the mention of matrimony proximate to the high school. She said:

"The domestic science course teaches home-making. I do not favor or insinuating matrimony into the high school curriculum, either by name or suggestion. Boys and girls should be trained in ways of the home, and such training should be given in the home as well as in the school."

Mrs. Morris emphasized the need of training boys.

COUNTY TO JOIN IN SANITARIUM PLAN, DECIDED

Two Sites For Institution To House Tubercular Are Offered

If not this year, probably next year, Orange, Riverside and Imperial counties will open a sanitarium for tubercular patients.

As an economic and humanitarian measure, the project has the approval of the supervisors of Orange and Riverside counties, as expressed at a meeting of the supervisors of the two counties at Riverside yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Tate Thompson, a representative of the state board of health. Imperial county was not represented at the meeting.

The agreement reached yesterday in substance, is this:

The board of supervisors of each of the three counties is to reach a decision as to how far it is willing to go this year in financing a tri-counties tubercular sanitarium, and how far it will go next year.

With Imperial not represented, and the supervisors from Riverside and Orange counties not yet having had time to work out their budgets for the coming year, the meeting yesterday is to be regarded as an important preliminary meeting pointing the way to the establishment of a place where proper care may be given in an expert way to those who have contracted tuberculosis.

Real Need Seen

There are a number of sanitariums in the state operated jointly by two or more counties. That these sanitariums are saving lives and aiding in the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis was asserted yesterday by Mrs. Thompson. That a sanitarium to which patients from Orange county could be sent is a real need of Orange county was declared by Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange County hospital.

Orange county was represented by Supervisors S. H. Finley of Santa Ana, Howard A. Wassum of Tustin and William Schumacher of Buena Park, and Dr. Zaiser, Riverside's entire board and the county hospital superintendent, Dr. Wood, attended.

A tri-counties tubercular sanitarium project was discussed a year ago, and at that time an agreement in a general way as to its feasibility was reached. It has been frequently urged by Mrs. Thompson.

In opening the discussion, Supervisor Finley said that the Orange county board is figuring upon using a heavy proportion of its funds this coming year in getting its paved roads back into shape, and it will have to "go light" on some other projects.

Two Sites Offered

Two sites were offered. One is 160 acres at Box Springs for $6,000, with 1½ inches of water and almost no improvements. The other is a building formerly used as a private school, 270 acres, 1½ inches from home, and such training should be given in the home as well as in the school.

Mrs. Morris emphasized the need of training boys.

Here's a story about a dog that is reputed to have been worth $1,000. He was a Walker fox hound and owned by Clyde H. Ellis of Fairview.

The aristocratic canine was roaming the countryside about the home of Rene Callens, rancher of the Fairview district, about six weeks ago, when a bullet stopped him.

Ellis accused Callens of firing the fatal shot. He secured a warrant for his arrest and Callens was subsequently brought into the justice court here.

According to Ellis, Callens and another man were at target practice when the dog came before their

TAKES FIRST STEP TO FORM SHRINER SOCIAL CLUB IN THIS COUNTY

City Marshal Sam Jernigan, local representative of the potentate, Mystic Order of Shriners, has taken the initiative in organizing a Shriner's Social club for Orange county.

As a step in this direction Jernigan today was securing a roster of all members of the lodge who reside in Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. He has prepared blank rosters which he has distributed among lodge members in the three cities and all of the lodge members are showing a keen interest in the proposed club.

"What we want," said Jernigan, "is a social union to promote and foster closer relations and good fellowship among our lodge members and provide an organized and hospitable means of extending fraternal acquaintance."

"As soon as the rosters are completed I will call a meeting which will be held at the Grand Opera house here. We will then formally organize by appointing officers."

"It is our intention to make the club one of the finest in Orange county. All of the nobles of the order are interested and it will not be difficult to get the club established."

Practical demonstration of salesmanship methods, talks on truthful advertising and the placing of Pacific coast buyers on a parity with Eastern buyers in purchase terms are some of the features planned for the convention, it was announced here today.

The convention is set for Industrial and Trade Exposition week and visiting buyers will be included in a great stag dinner to be held in Los Angeles Friday night, August 19.

COUNTIES UNITE IN PROJECT TO CONTROL AUTO TRUCK LOADS BY LAWS

Uniform Ordinance Limiting Cargo to 23,000 Lbs. To Be Passed

BACK ROAD COMMISSION

Highway Board's Attitude In Row With Clubs Is Given Approval

Ordinances placing a load limit of 23,000 pounds gross on a single truck and 22,000 pounds net for a truck and one or two trailers is to be passed by Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

The attitude of the state highway commission in its controversy with the Automobile Club of Southern California was approved.

An agreement for the organization of a tri-counties flood control committee, with a tentative agreement to appropriate $2000 from each county treasury, was reached.

These are the three outstanding acts of supervisors of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties at a joint meeting held yesterday afternoon in Riverside.

The meeting was called for two purposes, one the consideration of the passage of a uniform truck load ordinance for the three counties, the other for the reaching of an agreement looking toward Santa Ana river flood control activities by the three counties.

Each object was accomplished. Winding up the meeting, the declaration of attitude toward the attack that has been made on the state highway commission by the Automobile Club of Southern California, in company with the California Automobile club, was taken up on the suggestion of Supervisor T. F. Flaherty, Riverside.

"Seek To Dictate, Claim"

"The automobile clubs want to tell the highway commission what to do," said Flaherty. "The club wants to expend all available funds in building very heavy highways, and let the rest of the highways take care of themselves. The auto club plan means that the entire available funds would go to building heavy pavement between Los Angeles and San Francisco. The highway commission has faced problems, but it is doing its very best to live up to its pledges to the people of California who voted this money. If the highway commission took the program laid down by the auto clubs a rank injustice would be done to the people of this state."

"The highway commission ought to be commended highly for the stand it has taken in the face of the unfair tactics and unjust criticism of the auto clubs," declared Supervisor Wassum of Tustin.

A motion was put and carried unanimously approving the attitude of the highway commission. Some of the supervisors wanted also to go on record as condemning the attitude of the auto clubs. However, the motion went through with the commendation for the highway commission, which, as was pointed out, carried

COUNTIES UNITE COX PUBLICITY IN PLAN FOR TRUCK CURB SEEKER? NAY. HE SAYS

its own message as to the opinion of the supervisors concerning the auto club.

Those Present

Present at the conference yesterday were Supervisors William Schumacher, S. H. Finley, and H. A. Wassum of this county; Supervisor A. G. Kendall, San Bernardino; M. P. Cheney, Colton; George Biggin, Redlands; C. S. Crain, Victorville; and C. E. Grier, Uplands. San Bernardino county: C. D. Hamilton, Banning; J. L. Davis, Corona; T. F. Flaherty, Riverside; J. A. Packard, Riverside; R. S. Smith, San Jacinto; Riverside county: District Attorney A. P. Nelson, Orange county; District Attorney L. C. Kelley, Riverside.

Supervisor Hamilton opened up the discussion on truck damage to roads.

"When a gun was found to penetrate certain armor plate," he said, "armor plate manufacturers made a plate that the gun could not penetrate. Gun makers built better guns, and penetrated the new plate. Heavier armor was built, and that called for better guns. And so we go with roads. If we build eight-inch roads, the truck makers will build trucks just as heavy as we can build roads for them to smash. The state has control of the speed of the trucks, but we can limit the loads. The big trucking interests are centered in Los Angeles, and we three counties must protect our roads against them more than we have to against our local truck men, who are reasonable."

Has Lowest Maximum

In the discussion it appeared that Orange county with a load limit of 23,400 pounds gross, which includes the truck, at present has the lowest maximum. San Bernardino has a 20,000 pound net maximum, on truck and trailers, but the load can be carried on one truck, which might weigh 10,000 or more pounds. San Bernardino supervisors were especially opposed to trailers which, swinging from side to side, they said, are very hard on surfacing.

"There is only one way to conserve our roads and our money," declared District Attorney Nelson, "and that is by restrictive legislation. It can't be done by trying to re-build all our roads. If we build an eight-inch road we will have to have a limit on loads for it. We have got to restrict right now and enforce the law absolutely to the letter."

Nelson said he had written to eight district attorneys in Southern California, and he felt sure that if three counties got together on an ordinance, nearly all the other counties would pass it too.

"We must limit the loads," concluded Nelson, "and limit them absolutely to loads that our roads will carry. The solution is in restriction, not in spending money for heavier roads."

Without doubt, Nelson struck the keynote of the gathering.

Uplands Man Agreeable

"We are willing to place the maximum load limit as low as you will go," declared Supervisor Grier of Uplands. "The truck were hauling 40,000 pounds of cement at a time when we passed our ordinance."

Several supervisors said that local draymen were willing to conform to any reasonable maximum, and were anxious to co-operate in saving the highways.

While the discussion ran practically to an agreement to stand for a 23,000-pound gross maximum for a single vehicle, details of the ordinance that the three counties will adopt were left to a committee of nine. Supervisor Flaherty, Engineer A. C. Fulmer, District Attorney Kelley, for Riverside county; Supervisor Grier, Engineer E. T. Ham, District Attorney T. W. Dunworth, for San Bernardino county; a supervisor to be selected today, Engineer J. L. McBride and District Attorney Nelson, for Orange county. This committee will meet in Nelson's office at 2:00 o'clock next Saturday afternoon to draw up the ordinance.

The discussion upon flood control took only a few minutes. Supervisor Packard of Riverside outlined a plan of action that was tentatively agreed upon.

Committee of Nine

Each county is to name a supervisor to act with its engineer and district attorney as members of a tri-counties committee. The committee will investigate methods and plans, and recommend a line of action. To start off the work, he suggested that each county put $2,000 into the fund for the first year.

Supervisors Finley, Schumacher and Wassum each declared himself strongly for the bill, "ready to go at it and keep at it year after year."

The San Bernardino supervisors said they had not yet worked out their budget for the next year and they are not ready to say what they could do financially until they compared the item with other items. They are cutting their budget to the bone.

Francis Cuttle, president of the water conservation commission of the three counties, acting for water companies, which has done a lot of water spreading, said the commission would co-operate in any way possible.

Countywide Project
The fact that flood control is a countywide project was pointed out by Supervisors Finley and Flaherty, who said that the flood of 1916 destroyed practically every bridge across the Santa Ana river.

The committee of the three counties will meet within a few days and organize.

"Doomed to Become Famous"

"Certainly he is doomed to become famous if he continues at the rate he has been going," says the editorial, in part. "His latest bid for glory, following his jailing of a famous motion picture actress for driving her automobile too fast, is the horsewhipping in his courtroom of a man convicted of beating his wife."

"Out in Orange county the people are said to wear by J. H. Judge Cox, to whom all motor car speeders look exactly alike, men and women, rich and poor, civilians and those occupying official government positions. He jails millionaires, naval officers, scions of the first families of California or of any other state when they happen to hit the Orange county roads at speeds illegal."

"Offenders somehow fail to get mad at Judge Cox. He has the unusual faculty, it seems, of enforcing the law and retaining everybody's friendship. He says: 'Speeding is an honest-to-goodness menace to life and property. That's why I decided that I'd jail everybody—irregardless,' as the feller says—who drove through Orange county faster than fifty miles an hour. Those who exceed thirty-five miles, the legal limit, are merely fined. Judge Cox maintains that in jailing the speeders he is only trying to do his duty and to make motorists obey the law. So far he has succeeded in a degree that is remarkable. Orange county has not nearly as many speeders as it had."

CHANCE TO BLOCK FILM STORY THEFTS

are writing real stories but who have not yet tasted the sweets of success.

"I feel that in their hands lies the future of the motion picture industry."

"And more than that, I'll make this declaration:

"I'll pay as much to an unknown author who gives me a great motion picture story as I will to any famous author I know."

The prediction was made freely a few years ago that the advent of the popular novelist, the famous author, would revolutionize the motion picture industry.

Sought Millennium

Their interest in the pictures was filled by many as the beginning of the screen millennium. People shook their heads at the sad fate awaiting the mere picture authors who had grown up in the business and, oh, there was just no opportunity, at all, for those without the realm who hoped to see their scenarios screened—oh, no, indeed—pish-posh, flub-dub and twee-twa.

"In a way it is a pity that producers did not let many famous authors stand or fall on their own merits and the merits of their stories. The producers would have saved a lot of money. As it is, it proved pretty soft for the famous authors and mighty costly for the producers. It has taken three years for the producers to discover that they themselves were the only ones being fooled. And a lot of them don't know it yet. But the public knows it."

Made-to-Order Scenario

"There are exceptions to every rule and there must be to this one. Frank Packard may be a famous author, but I do not think he was when he wrote 'The Miracle Man.' That was a story made to order for the screen. 'The Virgin of Stamboul,' one of the outstanding successes of a year ago, was written by H. H. VanLoan. He never wrote a novel or best seller in his life, but he wrote at least ten successful photoplays."

Rex Beach, Zane Grey and James Oliver Curwood are the only names in the entire list of popular American writers which mean anything to the motion picture exhibitor, or to the public to which he caters, declared L. A. editor, "and their position has been created because they have been advertised and put over as producers, manufacturers."

FACES COURT AS SLAYER OF DOG HELD AT $1000

Ellis asserts that Callens deliberately fired at the dog, which was several hundred yards distant.

The dog was instantly killed. Ellis felt that he had sustained a great loss, for his dog was one of his best friends; a faithful companion. And the loss has not been replaced.

When arraigned in the justice court Callens did neither confess nor deny the accusation. He intimated that Ellis "had it in for him."

At any rate the case was scheduled to be aired in the justice court here this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Judge Cox says he is determined to get at the bottom of it and find out just who is at fault.

Officer Moncrief was notified and he trailed the coupe as far as Seventeenth and Bush streets, where it disappeared in the darkness. Officer Sid Smithwick made the report at police headquarters.

Urges Women to Keep Cool
City Marshal Sam Jernigan said today that this is the first instance of this nature that has been called to his attention for several months.

"We used to get frequent reports of such occurrences," said Jernigan. "But because of a poor description of the accosting parties we seldom succeed in rounding them up."

"If every woman who is accosted and insulted on the street by a motorist would keep a cool head and secure the license number of the automobile we would have something to work on."

"Most of them get excited and not only fail to get the number of the car but a clear-cut description of the person who accosted them."

If you like, of photoplays—not as authors only."

What Studios Need

Comes, now, one Lucien Hubbard, scenario editor for this same independent producing company, and says he too looks with favor on the unknown author who has a good story to sell.

The needs of all studio editors are alike and a good story will find a ready sale at any of the large producing studios whose array of stars is sufficiently varied to permit the use of almost any type of scenario. Hubbard says:

"Universal needs stories of life. 'We want stories about people who are real to their authors and who can seem real to us. Perhaps, then, we can make them seem real to the people in the theaters. We are not looking for a strikingly original plot or a climax absolutely unheard of in screen literature. Most things that have never been heard of do not deserve to be."

"That is not to say that we do not want originality. We do; but within the bounds of plausibility. The ingeniously contrived will, the trick marriage and all that sort of stuff are 'out' with us."

Nothing Outlandish

"We want real stories about real people with the climaxes based on genuine emotions and surprise twists, rather than on outlandish freaks of imagination. Specifically, we are buying the following types of stories:

"For Priscilla Dean, big emotional stories of action; for Harry Carey, big outdoor westerns, subjects with exploitation values; for Frank Mayo, virile outdoor adventure stories with plenty of romance and drama; for Hoot Gibson, fast-moving western melodrama with plenty of stunts and comedy; for Carmel Myers, character ingenues of the Latin or Jewish type; for Gladys Walton, stories of youth, flapper or ingenue type, with action and comedy and ingenuite stories for our other stars liberally besprinkled with comedy, but leading up to some genuine dramatic climax."

Now—isn't that sufficient urge to get out the little old scenario, whip it into shape, and Frank Jordan give it a number—and then—play the game? You may win."

PETE HERMAN WINS BACK BANTAM TITLE

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, July 26.—The bantam crown came home to roost.

Pudgy Pete Herman, the New Orleans Italian, got back his old title last night just the way he lost it last December—by a fifteen round decision.

Two judges and the referee decided that Herman outpointed the champion Joe Lynch, the West Side harp. It looked to an unpartisan spectator as if it should have been a draw, because it was such a bad exhibition that it was stretching a point to give either one of them a decision.

There was but one good round in the entire contest. In that good round, the second, Lynch lost his only chance to knock out the squatty newboy. He rocked Herman with a terrific right to the jaw and had the Italian groggy against the ropes. He missed another right by an inch and Herman recovered.

Moundsville, W. Va.—"I had taken doctor's medicine for nearly two years because my periods were irregular, came every two weeks, and I would suffer with bearing-down pains. A lady told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how much good it had done her. I took it and now I am regular every month and have no pain at all. I recommend your medicine to everyone and you may publish my testimonial, hoping that other girls the good it has done me."

Mrs. GEORGE TEGARDEN, 915 Third Street, Moundsville, W. Va.

How many young girls suffer as Mrs. Teggarden did and do not know where to turn for advice or help. They often are obliged to earn their living by toiling day in and day out. No matter how hard the pain they have to bear. Every girl who suffers in this way should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if she does not get prompt relief write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., about their health.

HOPES TO SOLVE RIDDLE OF YOSEMITE

YOSEMITE, July 26 — In the hope of finding glacial records which will enable scientists to read the history of the West in much more ancient days than they have been able to do hitherto, F. E. Matthes of the United States geological survey left here today, equipped with a large pack train, to explore the crest of the Sierra Nevada as far south as King's River canyon.

So far, scientists have been able to determine only that the Rocky Mountain and Sierra Nevada country was invaded twice by ice. In the Mississippi valley, the Eastern states and Canada, there are distinct records of at least five glacial floods. One result of Dr. Matthes' trip may be the discovery of data which will prove that the earlier ice invasion in the West in reality was two or more invasions, thereby establishing the contemporaneousness of the glacial epochs over the entire North American continent.

Splendidly Equipped
Few men are better equipped for such study than the geologist who left Yosemite today. He mapped Yosemite valley for the geological survey and did much work on Grand Canyon, Ranier and Glacier National parks. When Albert of Belgium visited Yosemite with his queen, Dr. Matthes was chosen to accompany them and explain the geological history of this park, which is recognized as one of the most fascinating riddles ever solved by science. He was made a chevalier of the Order of Leopold II by King Albert. He is best known, however, for formulating the accepted theory of the formation of Yosemite valley, which he is going to test by his observations on this trip, and which is expressed in the non-technical language of the official government guide book as follows:

"After the visitor has recovered from his first shock of astonishment—for it is no less—at the beauty of the valley, inevitably he wonders how nature made it. How did it happen that walls so enormous rose so nearly perpendicular from so level a floor?"

"It will not lessen wonder to learn that it was water which cut in the solid granite of this deep valley. Originally the Merced flowed practically at the level of the canyon top. How long it took its waters, enormous in volume then, no doubt, and rushing swiftly down a steep-pitched course, to scrape out this canyon with its tools of sand and rock, no man can guess. And, as it cut the valley, it left the tributary streams sloping ever more sharply from their levels until eventually they poured over brink after great waterfall."

"But geologists have determined by unerring fact, that the river did by far the most of the work, and that the great glacier which followed the water ages afterward did little more than square its corners and steepen its cliffs. It may have increased the depth from several hundred to a thousand feet, not more."

To Test Theory
It is to test out this theory that Dr. Matthes is climbing the crest of the jagged Sierra Nevada range, reading the story of the rocks as he goes.

"I want to make a comparative study of the Yosemite, Hetch Hetchy and the valleys of Kings River canyon," he said. "All of them are Yosemite in form, character and mode of origin. A secondary object, which it is more difficult to explain to the public, is that I want to study the San Joaquin and Kings River basins to verify my conclusions as to the successive stages of erosion in the Merced and Tuolumne canyons and Yosemite and Hetch Hetchy valleys, prior to the advent of the ice."

"The southern part of the Sierra Nevada is the highest part. Consequently the streams there have cut much deeper than they have in the northern part, and it should be possible to read the erosional record on the stream walls on a magnified scale, thousands of feet perhaps, where the record here covers only hundreds."

"Also, I wish to look for evidence of still earlier ice invasions in the West than have been determined by science up to now. We know of two invasions. The later one left a record which is plain and unmistakable. The photograph of the earlier one is mixed, confused. It may be that the first record is the work of two glaciers instead of one, perhaps more than two, and that they were contemporaneous with the glacial invasion of the other parts of the continent, of which we know of five. The last glacial invasion was comparatively recent, only about 25,000 years ago."

May Determine Epoch
"I don't know what records we are going to find, of course, but if we can establish the existence of more than two glacial floods in the West, it opens many possibilities for reading the geological history of this part of the world. For instance, it might enable us to determine the approximate epoch when the last upthrust of the Sierra Nevada range gave us the magnificent peaks in Yosemite and along the Muir trail. That thrust raised Mt. Lyell from a mere hill of 5000 feet to one of the earth's finest spires with an altitude of 13,000 feet. It is believed the thrust occurred less than a million years ago and that belief will be confirmed if we discover the existence of the other two glacial floods in the West, for Lyell bears no traces of late glacial erosion and must have been thrust upward after the earlier glacial epochs."

Dr. Matthes and his party headed for the little-used Fernandez pass in the southeast corner of Yosemite National park, from where they will swing northward to the Devil's Post Pile, thence southeastward along the famous John Muir trail on the crest of the range.

Returning in late September, their party will take a lower route via Te-

ORANGE COUNTY NEWS

RECORD YIELDS CHARACTERIZE THE SOUTHWEST
FARMING SECTION OF PROLIFIC ORANGE COUNTY

Things Worth Knowing About Orange County

Northward from Huntington Beach, along the Southern Pacific railway, are three stations, each with one or more sugar beet dumps, for this is a section in which the sugar beet is king.

Closest to Huntington Beach is Wintersburg, then a mile north of Wintersburg is Smeltzer, and two miles north of Smeltzer is Westminster. These three communities dot a line down through as fine a sugar beet growing section as there is in the world. The soil is deep and rich, and with water easily obtained at low pumping cost, the yields here per acre are often remarkable. While ten tons to the acre is often the average for a sugar factory's acreage, this section grows tonnage up to twenty-five or even thirty-five tons to the acre.

Lima beans are planted here extensively as a rotation crop with beets. There is always a few more acres to celery, a vegetable that fifteen years ago held the lead in the lowlands section. Sugar beets have proven more stable in prices, and the 5500 acres that used to go to growing celery, is now almost entirely devoted to sugar beets, together with thousands of acres since developed as farming lands.

One frequently hears of record yields throughout this section. Often the yield for lima beans here reaches 3000 pounds to the acre. Potatoes with some farmers are an every-year crop. For nearly twenty years a large area of lowlands to the west of Smeltzer and Wintersburg has been used for the maintenance of ponds for gun clubs. These duck-hunting properties were owned largely by Los Angeles men. In the last two or three years, however, land became too valuable for gun club purposes, and most of the club properties are now being farmed.

As in other lowlands sections of the county, drainage has played a big part in the development. The most recent drainage project, that of the Wintersburg district, in the last four years has greatly improved lands that were already profitably productive.

The section is served with a co-operative telephone system. While the fame of this fertile section may always rest upon its farming achievements, there looms large the possibility of the entire section being developed as an oil-bearing area. Hundreds of acres in the section have been leased to oil companies, and arrangements are completed for drilling of a number of wells, one of the projects concerning land adjoining Westminster on all four sides. The proven Huntington Beach field may extend northward for miles.

Measured by population, Westminster is the largest of the three communities. It is one of the oldest of the county's pioneer settlements, and has always held a high place in its standard of morals and citizenship. Today, Westminster, located on the paved road from Santa Ana to Seal Beach and Long Beach, contains a score of stores and shops, two churches, a Presbyterian and a Methodist, and a fine two-story brick school house, in which is located a hall for community use.

Wintersburg and Smeltzer are small communities, with warehouses and stores gathered together. Each place has a paved road connecting it with the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach boulevard.

Visalia Heat Breaks Thirty-Year Record

VISALIA, July 26—July of 1921, in which the days have been successively warm, is the longest continued period of heat Visalia has suffered for more than thirty years, according to J. C. Ward, who has taken the temperature from the same thermometer in his place of business in the same place on Main street for the past thirty years.

The extreme heat has ripened the fruit much earlier than in previous years.

The illustration at the top of the page shows an alfalfa crop; the one below gives a very good idea of how things grow in the southwest section—this happens to be corn in the process of being cut for storage in a silo—on D. A. Bear's ranch at Greenville. Soil such as this at Greenville, Talbert, Wintersburg and Smeltzer produces tremendous crops. The sugar beet is king here.

ORANGE BAND CONCERT AT PLAZA TONIGHT

ORANGE, July 26 — Band concert night henceforth will be on Tuesday's commencing with a concert to be given at the Plaza bandstand tonight.

The reason for the change is that concerts given at Fullerton every Friday evening will conflict with the local affair since Director E. B. Tozier has been engaged to lead the Fullerton organization.

The shift in nights will probably act satisfactorily to the attendance as Friday night is generally conceded a night of numerous attractions and meetings, which tend to claim many who otherwise would attend the concerts on any other night.

The band, under the leadership of E. B. Tozier, will render the following program starting at 7:45 tonight:

March, "Tropic to Tropic," Alexander.
Popular Hits, Remick.
Overture, "Poet and Peasant," Suppe.
Clarinet Solo, "Air Varie," Paimpar. C. E. Tozier.
Habanera, "Mexican Kisses," Roberts.
Baritone solo, "Perfect Day," Bond.
Serenade, "La Paloma," Yardier.
March, "Zacatecas," Codina.
Finale, "Star Spangled Banner."

FIREMEN AND POLICE MAY GET PAY RAISED

SACRAMENTO, July 26 — Ordinances providing for an approximate increase of twenty per cent in the salaries of practically all members of the city police and fire departments have been submitted to the city council by Councilman C. W. Anderson. Anderson was formerly chief of the fire department.

BABY WELFARE WORK SHOWS PROGRESS

ANAHEIM, July 26—Good progress is being made in the baby welfare conference in Anaheim, according to facts and figures given by Margaret Kuehl, public health nurse. Twenty babies are now being fed and cared for under the direction and advice of Miss Kuehl and local physicians.

Miss Kuehl's activities in this connection extends to all school children up to high school grades, as well as infants, and their cases are followed into the homes from the schools, if necessary.

The conferences are held in the Central school, Charters and Emily, every Tuesday and Friday, from 9 to 10 a. m. where Miss Kuehl and a physician give aid and advice to mothers. These conferences extend to nutritional and proper feeding of infants, and the service is free to all.

In the near future pre-natal instruction and advice will become a part of the conference work, according to Miss Kuehl, when expectant young mothers will be welcomed and advised.

Those who desire to see Miss Kuehl at other times than Tuesday and Friday morning at the Central school, will find her every afternoon in the city hall, office No. 15, or by calling No. 69 on the telephone in the afternoons.

UP-STATE NEWS

CHICO.—Members of the Pacific Service Club at DeSaba are preparing to entertain their friends and visitors in the mountains adjacent to Chico with an open-air dance at Camp One. The affair is in charge of a committee headed by J. Compton.

TRACY.—O. W. Smith has presented a proposition whereby Tracy may secure a municipal gas plant. Smith claims to have perfected a process for generating gas from oil, which he claims more efficient than former processes. He has offered to install a plant for Tracy at a figure which would be feasible for the city to handle. City Engineer W. D. Harrington will investigate the proposition and make report.

GRASS VALLEY.—The selection of A. P. Matthew, a San Francisco attorney, to represent the mine operators on the arbitration board charged with fixing the wage schedule for the ensuing years is reported here.

The Mine Workers' Protective League had previously named W. H. Southcott, a leader in the order and Mayor of Grass Valley, as the representative of the workers, and the two are delegated to select a third arbitrator.

SANTA CRUZ.—The officers of the State Loyal Workers' convention were elected at the annual meeting of the Advent Christian camp grounds, as follows:

President Alvin Lobb, Napa; first vice-president, Sadie Dickinson, Santa Clara; second vice-president, May Biggard, Santa Cruz; third vice-president, Ethel Warner, Oakland; secretary, Auris Buns, San Francisco treasurer, Mrs. Glories Bauman, Santa Rosa; auditor, Mrs. Gladys Price, Santa Rosa; member Pacific Coast Loyal Workers' mission board, Mrs. Lew W. Collins.

SAN JOSE.—While there has been a considerable demand for apricot pickers, highway laborers and teamsters during the last few days, the total number asked for is much lower than during the same period a year ago, and the state free employment bureau has had no trouble in filling all calls for help. More women have applied for work in the fruit district this year than a year ago, and the calls for them are much lighter.

STOCKTON.—Additional pumps are being installed by the Pacific Gas and Electric company in its Popular street station to overcome the falling water table and assure water service to the northwest section of the city. The expense involved is $22,000. Two turbine units are being installed now; an additional one will be put in next spring and the plans call for two more later.

FIND THEIR STRONG POINTS

Those "dull" boys and girls may be dull at their books, but they are not dull with their hands. Given almost any kind of manual work, they show unexpected interest, application and ability, and even artistic talent. The other children may be better at more abstract things like reading, grammar, arithmetic, etc., but they are better at practical work.

There is probably less essential difference in ability than most people imagine. There is less difference in amount of ability than in kind of ability. Some children are very capable in some things and other children are very capable in other things. Real education sometimes consists in developing whatever special ability there is. And real perception, perhaps, consists in getting rid of false estimates of merit, and valuing children and adults of different capabilities for what they are really worth.

It is not necessary to make a teacher or lawyer or doctor out of every child, though the old educational theory and method seemed to assume that it was. The community needs carpenters and masons and pattern-makers and dressmakers and weavers and other hand-workers, and needs the artists who are halfway between them and the "professions," just as much as it needs professional people. Why not assume that all are equally honorable, and train the young accordingly?

FORD TAKES UP WATERWAYS

Back of Henry Ford's proposal to take the Muscle Shoals project off the government's hands there is said to be a pioneering project bigger and more spectacular than anything yet undertaken by this unconventional business man. It is a practical utilization of the country's interior waterways for the combined purposes of manufacture and transportation.

Mr. Ford's possession and operation of the nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals would be, apparently, only an incident in his general plan. He is supposed to want the water power developed by the Tennessee river at that point mainly for the purpose of manufacturing Ford cars and tractors. There is plenty of iron and coal near at hand. Thus his raw materials would be more accessible than they are in Michigan. But the transportation possibilities are thought to assume in his mind no less importance.

The Tennessee is navigable from Muscle Shoals to its mouth, and he would keep it so, improving the channel. Through it he would gain access to the whole great system of waterways which includes the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Arkansas and other navigable streams. Thus Mr. Ford would be able to ship his cars and tractors by water, cheaply and easily, anywhere over a vast and populous area. Through the Mississippi, too, he would have direct access to the sea and thence to foreign countries. He might reasonably expect, also, to gain good water connection with the Great Lakes, thus joining his Alabama plants with his Michigan plants, and having another valuable water exit eastward via the New York Barge Canal to New York City or down the St. Lawrence to Europe.

Other people have talked much about the value of the nation's waterways. If Mr. Ford, with his characteristic directness and practicality, proceeds to do something about the matter without talking, it will be a fine example for the government itself and for private enterprise in other industries.

JAPAN GETTING READY

A recent dispatch from Tokyo quotes the Nichi Nichi, a leading newspaper, as saying that Japan will expedite a settlement of questions connected with the evacuation of Siberia and Shantung, and "hopes to clear up the situation before the opening of the Far Eastern conference."

If this is the case, things are going very well. Japan does not want to drag her own Asiatic plans into the limelight of the Washington conference; neither does she want to get in bad with the other powers by refusing to attend the conference and talk things over. The obvious way out of an awkward situation is to put herself in position to go to Washington with clean hands and a pure heart, demanding the reward of virtue.

Americans wish Japan all success in the process. Such preliminary ablutions will make it easier for Japan and America to agree on remaining problems more directly affecting the interests of both countries.

RAILROAD IMPROVEMENT

Railroad car loadings for the last week reported were not only larger than in pre-war years, but they were larger than for the corresponding week of 1919 and almost as large as last year when the boom was still on. Moreover, railroad earnings, both gross and net, were larger for the week referred to than they had been for the same week in either 1919 or 1920.

The railroads are clearly making progress. Railroad securities are steady, with a slight tendency upward. It is significant that this vital industry is one of the first, if not actually the first, to "find itself" after the slump. It is bound to do better right along now, as the government meets its obligations to the roads and business in general continues picking up.

It is what might have been expected. Anybody who thought the railroads were inevitably destined to ruin was foolish. It is almost as absurd to despair of American transportation as to despair of America. There must be rail transportation, and it has been demonstrated that in case of emergency, neither government nor public will let the railroads fail. They are too intimately bound up with the nation's life. Now and henceforth they are assured at least a living, after their lean years, and it may be a better living than they themselves expect.

STEERING BY WIRELESS

Perhaps the most important feature of the recent airplane bombing tests off the Virginia capes was one to which hardly any attention was paid at the time. It was the maneuvering of the battleship Iowa, far out at sea, without a man on board. The ship was steered by wireless from the coast.

This marked a big step in one of the most remarkable developments of modern transportation. Small vessels have been steered in this way before, but it appears to have been the first time the process was applied to a craft as big as a battleship, and also the first time the mechanical maneuvering was done to so great a distance.

The application of this new art to future warfare is obvious. If warships can be directed accurately by wireless, their fighting possibilities are greatly augmented, because they can be sent against a fort or hostile fleet without any risk whatever to human life. Torpedoes can be steered in that way, and small craft loaded with ammunition can be used as torpedoes, and sharp-prowed craft can be used to ram large craft. It may be possible eventually to handle a battleship or cruiser similarly in all of its fighting operations, steering it and aiming and discharging its guns and torpedo tubes by wireless, besides using the vessel itself as a ram.

The process can be applied to aircraft, too. Therein, perhaps, are its greatest possibilities. Aircraft offer the greatest menace to warships, but air-fighting is extremely risky for the flyers. If an endless process of bombing planes can be sent over a hostile fleet, flying straight and dropping their missiles without any human operator to suffer fear or death, what chance will the warships have?

We may even see battles between purely mechanical warships and purely mechanical aircraft, eventually, or between rival fleets of wireless-directed aircraft. That would be the logical end of present armament tendencies.

San Francisco Just As Bad

Riverside Press

The San Francisco Chronicle is greatly "fussed" over the movement started in Riverside against the power grabbing campaign of the city of Los Angeles. Special dispatches regarding the matter have been played up on the first page of the Chronicle and the following rather cheap effort at being facetious is made in an editorial:

"A dispatch from Riverside tells of a tremendous uprising, apparently extending all over Southern California, against the tyranny of Los Angeles, which is alleged to be confiscating the Colorado river, the high Sierra up to and perhaps including, our own Hetch-Hetchy water supply, and to be brazenly attempting to seize the state insane asylum, penitentiaries, Magdalene homes, or whatever they call them, now located in other southern counties, and transfer them bodily to its own greedy maw. And the embattled hosts assembled in Riverside, which is dry but not rural, lift up their voices and declare that such things shall not be. A declaration of independence is being drafted, and when we get it we have reason to believe that the ghost of Tom Jefferson will turn green with envy. It is to be a corker.

"Well, well! We did not think it. Subconsciously, like the rest of mankind, we had absorbed the notion that everything between the Tehachapi range and the Mexican border, and then some, was Los Angeles. And now it appears that there are others.

"The particular grievance which finally aroused those hitherto patient and much-enduring communities is the alleged fact that Los Angeles, having gobled up all the sources of power there, proposes to deliver the entire undiminished product into the city of Los Angeles and not allow a wheel to turn elsewhere in all the vast Angeleno domain.

"And, like the gentleman who was erroneously supposed to have proposed to the competent and vivacious Margot Asquith during her girlhood, these other cities have a mind to a career of their own."

The Chronicle need not fool itself with the delusion that there is in Southern California any general desire to hop precipitately out of the frying pan of Los Angeles into the fire of San Francisco. One of these big cities is just as provincial and just as unfair in its relations with the country near it as the other.

San Francisco has a bitter controversy with the farmers of the San Joaquin valley over the Hetch-Hetchy municipal water project; the East Bay cities are in a chronic state of belligerency because of schemes of San Francisco to make Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda parts of a Greater San Francisco; Vallejo and Sacramento are fighting against the plan to dismantle (or practically so) the Mare Island navy yard and establish a great plant near San Francisco. The only thing that can be said of Los Angeles is that it moves more swiftly than San Francisco. The northern city is clearly disgruntled that it has been so slow in waking up to the possibility of municipal power development, and it will not be easy to convince the people of the San Joaquin valley that San Francisco is not likely to launch some big power project in connection with the Hetch-Hetchy water rights in imitation of the plans developed by Los Angeles in connection with the Owens river and other mountain streams.

San Francisco is tremendously interested in blocking any re-apportionment plan that will give Southern California increased power in the legislature; and that city therefore hails with joy anything that looks like dissension in the south. In the legislature, however, San Francisco is quite as great a menace as Los Angeles—in a way greater because the personnel of its representation is not so good as that of the Southern California city.

Both cities are a menace politically and both are selfish and brutal in their treatment of other communities whenever that policy seems to promote the commercial interests of those great centers of population. A combination of Southern California outside of Los Angeles with Alameda county, the San Joaquin valley and northern California as against both Los Angeles and San Francisco, is a much safer plan for the state than any combination of a part of Southern California with San Francisco.

Today's Talk

THOSE WHO NEVER KNOW

The rent was over-due. The earner's fingers were tired and stiff. Across her lap a sleeping child was stretched. The room was cluttered—but in the garb of barrenness. No pictures hung upon the walls. A cot, a chair, a little table, no rug—that was all.

A tall, kind man knocked. He had a basket in his hand. It brought a ray of light to the Mother's want and sunken face. The child woke up. It took the stranger's hand. Some money was left. The rent was paid. The man went away.

When the door was closed the little tot ran to the Mother and said: "Was that God, Mother?"

There are those who never know what it is to be rich.

Many years ago a ship came into New York harbor—as thousands of others had adown the years. But on this ship was a boy who had left everyone he loved and all he held dear, that he might find in "the land of opportunity" an outlet for the dreams that surged his soul. He did not know a word of English. He had not a single friend to go to in the new land.

He began by shoveling snow. He washed dishes. He scrubbed floors. He sold newspapers. He went to night school as a result of his meagre earnings by day. He slept where he could.

One bitter day he froze his feet.

But he made friends. And he was loyal to them, through thick and thin. He never forgot a kindness. He was all the time trying to improve his chances. He kept studying. One day he graduated with high honor from a noted law school. He became the trusted counsel to great men of affairs, with millions behind their enterprises.

He sent for his aged mother and father—and gave them a home such as they never dreamed about. They called him "self-made."

But there are those who do not know what it is to work.

Spring was on in full. The lilacs waved their fragrance in lavish abandon. Two humans, a young man and a girl, were exchanging happiness upon a bench in a park. A world walked past every minute. But the two couldn't see a one! There was no traditional moon—but four stars sparkled about that bench, one in each eye. But why matter about details? For a troth was pledged that night.

And yet there are those who never know what love is about!

WORSE AND WORSE

Two Scotchmen who, though good friends, were poles apart on politics, were discussing the doings of their local representative. Said one: "He sent me a brace of fine birds before election last year."

HARD ON BOTH OF THEM

An Irishman whose face was so plain that his friends used to tell him it was an offense to the landscape, happened also to be as poor as he was homely.

One day a neighbor met him and asked, "How are you, Dennis?"

"Mighty bad. Sure, 'tis starvation that's starin' me in the face."

"Begorra," said his neighbor, sympathetically, "it can't be very pleasant for either of yez." From Harper's Magazine.

POSTURE

When the body is held erect and well poised, all the organs are in the best position for carrying out their special functions.

When this is not the case, it is easy to see how derangements of the health may come about.

Elements of bad posture, such as round shoulders, protruding head, "sway back," flexed or over-extended knees, and weak feet, often appear in young children, and exercise for their correction must not be delayed too long.

FUDGE—To slip over; also a kind of indigestible candy made by girls when they are about twelve years of age.

HEN—A domestic fowl which is supposed to lay eggs, but gets by without delivering the goods; any female who is all cackle and feathers.

IGNORANCE—In Europe, a cause of war; in America, a qualification for office.

JUSTICE—A blind-folded goddess without any friends; an elusive principle; something that is sometimes handed to a man when he goes to law.—[Copyright, 1921, by S. T. Mosby.]

Power Development in Infancy

Sacramento Bee

The amazing development of hydro-electric power in the Western and Mountain States is shown in a statement of the kilowatt hour production for 1920, just issued by the United States Geological Survey.

The total for the twelve states is given as 7,925,000,000 kilowatt hours, with an estimated value of $79,000,000, or twice the value of the gold produced in these states during the same period. California is the leader, with a production of approximately one-third of the total.

So far as California is concerned, we all know resources are only in the infancy of their ultimate development. Vast power projects are now in course of construction, which will greatly increase the production within a very short time.

Each year will see the harnessing of the water as it flows down the mountain sides in the Sierras. Most of the development now in progress is in the hands of private interests. But the time is coming when cities and towns will see the necessity of participating much more generally.

The success of Los Angeles in this connection is already having its influence. The comparative cheapness with which that city is successfully delivering electric energy is one of the keys to its industrial progress. The monopolistic designs which this success has apparently engendered should not blind other cities to the fact that what Los Angeles has done, they also can do. There is no need for paying tribute forever to the private corporations. Los Angeles discovered this fact long ago, and acted upon it with results even more beneficial than expected when the Owens River project was first proposed.

As was the case in the last legislature, municipal effort in this direction is bound to meet opposition. No vested interest will surrender its present advantages without a fight.

But persistent, determined effort now will mean a rich fruition in new industries and a more prosperous life for every city which puts development of electrical energy in its program.

CHAPTER 97.

BILLY BEAR GETS A FREE RIDE

By Harvey Elliott.

Tommy Smith and his father still thought that Bear was hid in the barn. Mother Smith was so disgusted with her experience in riding the calf that she went into the house and told them she wouldn't chase bears out of a barn for anybody.

Farmer Smith and Tommy talked the matter over and decided they wouldn't try to get the Bear without more help. It was getting on toward evening and they thought best to leave the matter until the next morning.

They wanted to shut up the barn so tightly that the Bear could never get out. The horses were in the pasture and the animals were in the barn at the time. There were a few chickens, but they would rather let the Bear eat them than to go in after them.

Then they proceeded to fasten up the barn doors. They latched the little door and thought it was safe. They hooked the stable doors at one side both at the top and bottom, then to make it sure, they leaned a big post against them. One of the stable doors on the other side had the hook broken off and they were wondering how to fasten it securely.

"I tell you," said Farmer Smith, "we will back the wagon against it and that will hold it solid."

When Billy Bear heard that he began to wonder what would happen to him if they started to monkey with his wagon. One thing he noted was that Tommy Smith had thrown away his base-ball bat and Farmer Smith had leaned his gun against the side of the barn. If Billy could "beat it" before Farmer Smith could get to his gun he would be fairly safe.

Billy Bear lay real still and awaited developments. Farmer Smith took hold of the wagon tongue and Tommy got behind to push. Neither one of them looked inside.

In a moment the old wagon began to move. Billy rather enjoyed the ride. He wouldn't care if they would haul him on home. But they circled it around and turned the back end to the barn door.

"Now back her up," shouted Farmer Smith. Tommy took hold of a hind wheel and back she went!

"Bang!" The hind end hit the barn so hard it upset Billy Bear over on his side.

"Go easy, there," shouted Billy, "there's no use jamming things around like that. How would you like to be upset this way?"

"Listen!" said Farmer Smith, "I believe I heard that Bear in the barn, while they were listening beside the wagon—

"Woof!"

There was Billy standing on his hind feet, his head between Tommy Smith and Tommy's father. When Billy gave that "Woof" in their ears they dropped as if they had been shot. As soon as they could scramble to their feet they ran for their lives, toward the kitchen door.

Billy watched them into the house, then climbed down and started for home. Billy Bear had had the time of his life, yet he went home with a clear conscience so far as any real wrong doing was concerned.

THE CLAIMS OF THE LIVING

The days grow shorter, the nights grow longer.
The headstones thicken along the way;
And life grows sadder but love grows stronger
For those who walk with us day by day.

The tear comes quicker, the laugh comes slower,
The courage is lesser to do and dare,
And the tide of joy in the heart falls lower
And seldom covers the reefs of care.

But all true things in the world seem truer
And the better things of earth seem best,
And friends are dearer, as friends are fewer,
And love is all as our sun dips West.

Then let us clasp hands as we walk together
And let us speak softly in low sweet tone
For no one knows on the morrow whether We two pass on—or one alone.
